A JOURNEY TO GHANA 2024 STITCHING CULTURES TOGETHER THROUGH CLOTH & FIBER ARTS

Greetings Quilters and Artists,

We are pleased to share our A Journey to Ghana 2024: Stitching Cultures Together Through Cloth and Fiber Arts brochure! I am honored to have worked with Global Linkages, Inc. (GL) to curate a wonderful and exciting travel experience focused on fiber arts. I have traveled with Lorna and GL for the last ten years and can assure you that you will have the time of your life. My life has been greatly enriched by my travels with GL and so will yours. And the inspiration you will gain for your artwork is priceless!

This journey has been curated to provide you with opportunities to experience Ghana through fiber arts, along with an exhibition at the National Museum of Ghana. You are welcome to submit artwork for this international exhibit of American and Ghanaian fiber artists and art quilters. You can also look forward to shopping in the Ghanaian markets for fabric, discovering new techniques, and learning about the rich history of Kente cloth, Batik and Ankara fabrics and beading throughout our journey across three culturally-rich cities, and much, much more. We will be literally stitching cultures together through cloth and fiber art by engaging with Ghanaian quilters and community organizations, as well as Global Linkages Community Partners. Several workshops will be held throughout the journey, giving us the opportunity to get to know one another, to learn from each other and to bond with each other.

I am extremely excited to participate in this cross cultural and learning experience and hope that you will be able join us.

Sincerely,

Carole Gary Staples, Fiber Artist

CAPE COAST SLAVE CASTLE DUNGEON

Along the coast of Ghana are many ancient castles and forts, which marked the beginning of slaves' dangerous journey during the slave trade era. These fortresses were the last memory that slaves had of their homeland before being shipped off across the Atlantic. One of the most famous castles in Ghana is the Cape Coast Castle. It began as a trade lodge constructed in 1565; by 1700 the fort was transformed into a castle and served as headquarters for the British colonial governor. When in operation as a slave dungeon, up to 1,000 males and 500 female slaves were shackled and crammed into the castle's dank, poorly ventilated holding cells. Once slaves arrived at the castle, they could spend up to three months in captivity before being shipped off to the New World.

MABEL'S TABLE

Mabel's Table is an open-air restaurant built on the coast of Cape Coast/Elmina with a view of the castle that is memorable. The restaurant serves local, continental and African American specialties that are very well prepared.

Optional Activities

KAKUM NATURE WALK

Kakum National Park is predominately made up of undisturbed virgin rainforest, covering an area of 145 square miles, and is one of the most famous national parks in Ghana. It is one of only three locations in Africa with a canopy walkway, which is 1,150 feet long and connects seven treetops that provide access to the forest. This series of rope style bridges allows visitors to walk through and view the park up close and personal; in a way that is normally reserved for birds and monkeys. This experience is great exercise and a chance to see natural Ghana outdoors. Kakum National Park is under consideration for World Heritage Site designation.

QUILTING/ CRAFT WORKSHOP BY THE BEACH

Join with other quilter participants in a craft activity that allows the natural beach environment to provide the perfect setting. The Topical Workshop will be announced in mid-2024.

ELMINA FISHING VILLAGE TOUR

Elmina Fishing Village is both picturesque and gritty; charming and thought-provoking. The Elmina Fishing tour offers you the opportunity to glimpse the Village's main industry and one of Ghana's oldest trades. You'll meet local fishermen and learn about the intricacies of the trade and their day-to-day work and challenges; as well as fish mongers, who will demonstrate the various stages of smoking fish in earthen ware ovens.

GLOBAL MAMAS

DAY 11 OPTIONAL ACTIVITIES

Global Mamas offers a variety of cultural workshops that will submerge you in Ghana's rich culture. The following workshops are being offered as part of the Sankofa Journey's experience.

Head Wrapping Workshop (Morning & Afternoon)

Join Auntie Nana to learn the cultural history and technical wonders of African head wrapping. Head wrapping has been a part of African culture for centuries. The wraps are worn by men and women with pride. You will master an array of Gele head wrapping styles and learn how headwraps identify a woman's religion, social status and celebrations. Apply your skills to show reverence at your next African event by attending in a perfectly fashioned head wrap.

Batik Workshop (Afternoon)

Discover the art and beauty of African batik and get a glimpse into the life of a local artisan as you work side-by-side during this four-hour class. You'll join a Global Mamas' batik maker in her workshop to learn the traditional techniques of batik production - using wax and dye to create colorful patterns - to make your own one-of-a-kind fabric. Afterwards, take your two yards of handiwork home to sew into a finish product that will always have a special place in your home or wardrobe.

Beadmaking Workshop (Afternoon)

This workshop provides a first-hand look at the ancient tradition of Ghanaian bead making. You'll join a talented craftsman in his workshop to discover bead making methods from beginning to end. Through hands-on participation, you will learn the process that artists follow, using termite clay, palm kernels, and cassava stalks, to transform recycled glass into beautiful, vibrant beads. Then, you will have an opportunity to choose your own colors and patterns and create beads and a bracelet of your own!

Drumming/Dancing Workshop (Afternoon)

Experience African drumming and dancing at its finest with the most talented drumming and dancing troupe in Cape Coast. This workshop combines powerful rhythms and high-energy dances of Ghana to express Ghanaian culture in its purest form. You will learn history, songs, dance and techniques that are still used to this day.

Ghanaian Cooking Workshop (Morning)

Explore the fragrant and exotic flavors of West African cuisine in Auntie Esi's kitchen. Esi will introduce you to an array of new tastes and flavors as you learn how to create authentic Ghanaian dishes.
